Assessing Official Comments:

Problems with timely procurement of materials and adequate supervision persisted throughout the Project e.g. 1) the contractor resisted procurement of contractually required security materials including required material for identification materials for identification of workers and retina scanners, 2) Post had to loan the contractor a SHEM approved product for termite control,3) The contracting officer was required to write the contractor a directive to procure contractually required X-Ray Machines and Walk Through Metal Detectors,4) the contractor vigorously resisted bringing the Contractually required Geotechnical Engineer to perform geotechnical requirements, and resisted using Type II cement for production of concrete 5) purchased incorrect power supply voltage 120V instead of 230 V for the Fire panel, sub alarm panels et al. The contractor fell behind early in the project re issues with aforementioned procurement of materials and issues with production of concrete and did not take the necessary steps to recover including but not limited to bringing adequate site supervision to site and taking the necessary action in relation to improving procurement of material.

This was a complex project of $26 million dollars, consisting of construction of a new annex and renovation of an occupied building. It is my observation that the contractor did not have adequate backup logistical support for material procurement- nor adequate supervision for the project. In addition to the examples cited herein the contractor procurement methods for material to be used in the Controlled Access Area resulted in materials for the secure area being compromised resulting a delay of 3- 4 months for re-procurement and special handling of materials under USG Security personnel to monitor the activities.

Hello,
Thank you for contacting the NSLC Help Desk.
Please see the email chain below regarding an investigation from DOS OIG. If the evaluations are un-archived per the investigators request, you will need to assign a focal Point (this can be yourself). In order to save local Copies and forward to the Investigator. The evaluations will all re-archive the same day. Therefore, your participation will be required in this process. Please let us know a day to process the evaluations (best practice is to un-archive in the morning to allow the maximum amount of time to save the evaluations).

Sincerely,
Dana

Thanks for your email. Is there a reason that you cannot unarchive and save them as PDFs for me all in one shot if I send you the contract numbers? Id imagine there are less than 10 total archived. It seems that the process you describe adds complexity to a process that is already “on the clock” due to the 11pm timeframe. Maybe there isn’t another way, but Ive found that most of the time we, the government, add unnecessary complexity to everything.

In this criminal case, the Navy was defrauded by the defendant too, for what that is worth. If you/the Navy can pay it forward to the guy that caught him doing a $200 million 25 year fraud, itd be appreciated.

Thanks and please let me know..
Chris

Hello,
Thank you for contacting the NSLC Help Desk.
There is no way to locate and unarchive 14 years of CPARS, I will need you to provide contract/order numbers for the ones you need unarchived. After which you will need to contact the focal points of those contract/order numbers for them to be able to print them for you. The contract/order numbers will re-archive at 11 pm the same night they are unarchived, so I will not perform the unarchive requests until all the information has been gathered.
Sincerely,
Sam Hersom

Good afternoon,
I'm a Criminal Investigator with the Department of State OIG (not a focal point) and am requesting assistance in unarchiving any available contracts prior to 2014 for a company called "Montage Inc." with a UEI of RALKDB351J43. This request is pursuant to a criminal investigation involving the company, involves CPARS that are likely archived and is supported by the US Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York.

The CPARS helpdesk attempted to assist me this AM, but was unable to unarchive the CPARS relevant to this investigation. I understand there is at least ONE project with two CPARS from this period with a contract number of SAQMMA08C0270 .

I can provide other contract numbers if necessary, but am hoping there is a way to locate and unarchive any CPARS from 2000-2014.

Thanks so much and please reach out with any questions.

-Chris

You don't often get email from usn.pnsy.navsealogcen.mbx.ptsmh@us.navy.mil. Learn why this is important

Hello,

Thank you for contacting the NSLC Help Desk. Please explain that you're not a Focal Point you are an Investigator, use the below script to request a unarchive on the contract numbers that you want to view and ask your teir2/3 to send you the information you need after they verify your credentials.

Unarchive Contractor

The Help Desk is unable to unarchive a contract/evaluation at the request of a contractor for the following reasons:

- Unless the dates change, the record will archive again the same day
- Contractors can't change the dates to keep from unarchiving again
- If the contract/evaluation has archived, it is passed the timeframe of relevancy

If you have a reason that you feel justifies unarchiving your contract/evaluation, please contact the Focal Point of the contract and work the request through them. If there is a legal and just cause to unarchive, we will work with the Focal Point to see if the action is possible.

Please note: Construction and Architect and Engineering Contracts archive six years after the Est. Ultimate Completion Date. All other contracts archive three years after the Est. Ultimate Completion Date. Archived contracts are not available for any CPARS users to view. These are Archived.
